

Media Contact:
Chaundra Luckett
678-553-6010
chaundra.luckett@acfb.org

ATLANTA COMMUNITY FOOD BANK BENEFITS AS CHEP EXECUTIVES DONATE THEIR TIME AND $10,000

ATLANTA, GA (JUNE 15, 2018) -- A team of executives from CHEP, a global leader in supply chain solutions with North American headquarters in Atlanta, recently helped sort more than 16,612 pounds of food and donated $10,000 to the Atlanta Community Food Bank. The financial contribution is from the CHEPCares program which provides local and national support for nonprofit organizations.

“CHEP’s purpose is to connect people with life’s essentials, every day,” said Laura Nador, President, CHEP North America. “We are pleased to work with a community partner, like the Atlanta Community Food Bank, whose mission aligns with our goals. Giving back through volunteering and donating helps create better communities and supports families and individuals in need.”

The timing of CHEP’s contributions is critical, as the summer months are typically more difficult for families who are food insecure. School-aged children often miss the meals and support they would usually receive during the academic year. The Atlanta Community Food Bank provides a Summer Meals Program and other services during these off months, which are made possible thanks to the support of sponsors like CHEP.

“The Food Bank is thankful to have partners like CHEP who make sustainability and food security a priority,” said Sarah Fonder-Kristy, Chief Development Officer, Atlanta Community Food Bank. “Volunteer service combined with financial support truly makes a difference in our community as we work to end hunger.”

During CHEP’s volunteer day at the Food Bank, executives helped pack more than 16,612 pounds of food or the equivalent of 11,342 meals. These meals will be distributed to those in need within the coming weeks. Volunteers also toured the Food Bank and learned about the impact of their contributions to the organization and the community at large.

For more information about the Atlanta Community Food Bank and how you may contribute, visit www.acfb.org.

About CHEP

CHEP is a global provider of supply chain solutions serving the consumer goods, fresh food, beverage, manufacturing and retail sectors in more than 60 countries. CHEP offers a wide range of logistics and operational platforms and support services that are designed to increase performance and lower risk while improving environmental sustainability. CHEP's 11,500-plus employees and more than 275 million pallets and containers deliver comprehensive coverage and exceptional value, supporting more than 500,000 customer touch-points for global brands such as Procter & Gamble, Kellogg's and Nestlé. CHEP is part of the Brambles Group, the operator of a portfolio that includes IFCO, the leading provider of Reusable Plastic Containers (RPCs) to the fresh food supply chain globally, as well as specialized container solutions to the automotive sector.

For more information, visit the company's website at www.chep.com or follow us on Twitter @CHEPna and LinkedIn. Please also check out our YouTube channel.

About the Atlanta Community Food Bank

The Atlanta Community Food Bank works to end hunger with the food, people and big ideas needed to ensure our neighbors have the nourishment to lead healthy and productive lives. Far too many people in our own community experience hunger every day, including children, seniors and working families.

Through more than 600 nonprofit partners, we help more than 755,000 people get healthy food every year. Our goal is that, by 2025, all hungry people across metro Atlanta and North Georgia will have access to the nutritious meals they need when they need them. It takes the power of our whole community to make that possible. Join us at ACFB.org.

###